For Immediate Release: June 1, 2016

Swearing-In Ceremony for Chief Cerelyn “C.J.” Davis

A public swearing-in ceremony for new Durham Police Chief Cerelyn “C.J.” Davis will be held at 6 p.m. on Friday, June 10, at the Carolina Theatre, 309 West Morgan Street. At the public ceremony the oath of office for Chief of Police will be administered by a North Carolina judge. The community is invited to attend.

Chief Davis will start her duties as police chief on Monday, June 6. She will be sworn in as a North Carolina police officer that morning.

Chief Davis, a 30-year law enforcement veteran and Durham’s first female African-American police chief, comes to Durham from the Atlanta Police Department, where she most recently served as deputy police chief. To see her full resume, go to <http://bit.ly/1P6KJoy>.
